TWITTER TALENT COMPETITION
Twitter Results vs. Forecast
There were total exits to Twitter in 2011, below our annual forecast of In Q4, we Twitter, greater than our forecast of In Q4, we were greater than our fo	e had exits to
For our 2012 forecast, we assume Twitter will have YoY headcount growth (similar to growth from 2009 to 2010), with of their 2012 hires coming from Google (consistent with estimate). This implies exits in 2012 (vs. in 2011). We will measure our 2012 success by 2012 exits to Twitter vs. this updated forecast.	h our 2010
Counteroffers vs. Twitter
	oY in Q3; Q4
Our decreased Q4 counteroffer win rate reflects who was not Googlers who wanted to experience roles outside of Google. Additionally, we hypothesize Twiste redesign and brand pages launch may have increased Twitter's attractiveness as an emport our talent retention strategy, Additional detail on Q4 Twitter counteroffer activity can be found in Attachment B.
OTHER STARTUP TALENT COMPETITORS
Square and Groupon
In Q4, Square made offers to Googlers (vs. in Q3). We countered and counteroffer to remain at Google. Groupon made offers to Googlers in Q4 VP-level and We will continue to monitor these organizations' recruiting However, going forward we will only report these results if significant offer activity occurs.	accepted our Googler Responses trends.
